Melissa Moore's birthday present from her dad, Bob Moore of Mattapoisett, was a balloon trip over Rochester. Only an occasional wisp of chimney smoke gives evidence of human activity at a Sunday dawning, but the balloon flew low enough for Melissa to enjoy the animals. The cows showed some concern at the sound of the burner, but gentle talk from the balloonist allayed their fears.

Photos are by Bob Moore who enjoyed the trip as much as Melissa obviously did.

Selectmen's Meeting

BUS SERVICE DISCUSSED

Seven residents attended the meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen last Tuesday to discuss the bus service to the town which consists of 3 daily trips: at 8:40, 11:45 and 4:45. The Selectmen called the meeting to ask input from townspeople on whether or not to continue the subsidy of the bus trips which is rising steadily. The 1980 subsidy was $5,000 and it is expected to go steadily higher for the 3 daily trip service. All seven in attendance supported the continuation of the subsidy. Ms. Crapo, one of the advocates, presented a petition of 54 names in support of the subsidy. The Selectmen heard the 7 bus riders and Selectman John DeCosta said that he would be favorable to letting the subsidy continue as it is. Selectman James Huntoon said that he would be in favor of doing away with basketball and the public beach rather than the bus.

The Selectmen suggest that if there are other residents who occasionally use the bus service they contact the Selectmen's Office so that they can obtain an estimate of the ridership.

was appointed Assistant Building Inspector to fill the vacancy of Scott Armbruster who is now the Building Inspector. Corey's 30 years' experience teaching carpentry in the school system, 40 years as a carpenter and experience as inspector at Camp Edwards were factors in his appointment.

SEWER SURVEY

Selectmen met with Ron Michalski, Tighe & Bond engineer, to discuss the septic system study which is the subject of the new sewer grant. Michalski asked that a date be set in January for the initial meeting to inform residents on the purpose of the septic study. January 18, 1982 was set for a 7:30 p.m. meeting in the Town Hall Conference Room. Michalski asked that a small committee be appointed to work with Tighe & Bond on the survey which is designed to find the greatest problem areas of the town with the purpose of obtaining more grant money for correction of septic problems. The present grant is for study only from the Environmental Protection Agency.

SUPPORT FINES

Selectmen received a recommendation from Chief of Police James Moran to write in support of S-2386 for a parking law amendment. The Chief pointed out that the bill would require fines for first offenders and would increase revenue from traffic violations. First offenders presently are given a warning.

EMTS NOW AVAILABLE

Chief Moran advised Selectmen that the first EMT meeting had been held with 7 EMT's present along with himself and Lieutenant Santos. The EMTs present are back on the encoder to be used on emergency runs when they are available. New rules and regu-

The Law, Censorship?

Editorial, D.C.J.

Rep. David Nelson of New Bedford was taken to task in a recent editorial in the Standard-Times for "censorship" because he opposed publicly and also in the Massachusetts General Court the appearance of self-styled drug guru Timothy Leary at Southeastern Massachusetts University. In this appearance on the podium of the university, Leary reportedly advocated the use of mind altering drugs and predicted a youth revolution. It was the contention of the Standard-Times editorial that a university is the forum for the free exchange of ideas and therefore Rep. Nelson is acting as a censor of ideas.

I cannot see it that way. If censorship is the issue, then the censor is United States law which prohibits the possession and abuse of controlled substances used by mind altering gurus such as Leary. Even in a permissive society such as ours, there is a discrimination imposed upon the populace by the law. To ask that the general public obey the law which prohibits drug abuse and at the same time finance the podium from which Leary advocates drug abuse is a contradiction that people should refuse to tolerate. There is no greater threat to our society today than the smuggling, sale and abuse of drugs. It is responsible for far more destroyed lives and property than Viet Nam. People hooked on drugs have to turn to crime to support a habit which cannot be financed any other way.

If Charles Manson were to be invited to speak at Southeastern Massachusetts University on the subject of cult murder, I expect that there would be a great wave of protest. Yet, Manson is responsible for less than half a dozen deaths. Leary, on the other hand, by widely advocating the abuse of drugs, is responsible for broken lives on a grand scale. His specialty is mental suicide. I can't see this as an idea that should be wantonly presented to students. Neither does the law. As a member of the General Court of Massachusetts, David Nelson is sworn to uphold the law. As a representative of the people, he is sworn to represent their interest. He and all the other members of the General Court are responsible to defend and protect the censorship imposed by United States law. This law is not suspended the moment you enter the campus of a university.

David Nelson is worthy of the highest praise. He and all of his fellow representatives and senators should be buried under an avalanche of public demands that a university, supported by public funds, not be used as a forum for an advocate of destructive ideas which are contrary to the safety of the public and therefore against the law.

LOCAL COLLEGE STUDENTS REGISTER AT WENTWORTH INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Four local residents are enrolled at Wentworth Institute of Technology in Boston for the 1981-1982 academic year, Dr. Edward T. Kirkpatrick, Wentworth president, announced.

They are: Michael W. Bailey, Grandview Avenue; Douglas H. Cameron, Hiller Cove; Joanne M. Faria, 5 Knollwood Drive; and Charles Surprenant, 36 Main Street, all of Mattapoisett.

About 3,000 full-time day students registered for the industrial and engineering technology programs at Wentworth. The freshman enrollment was one of the highest in the college's history. Wentworth enables a student to start on the path of higher education at a point keyed to one's scholastic preparation and achievements, and gears the individual to attain the limits of one's potential.

An Associate in Engineering degree is granted to students completing the two-year engineering technology program and an Associate in Applied Science degree to students in the two-year industrial technology courses. Wentworth also conducts a certificate program in industrial technology. Graduates of the engineering technology programs may advance to the Bachelor of Science in Engineering Technology degree program, where the courses are conducted on a cooperative work-study basis.

Whale Behavior Lecture

A modern whaleman will make old New Bedford his port-of-call on December 13 in a rare New England appearance.

Roger Payne, world-renowned research scientist and pre-eminent in knowledge of whale behavior, has accepted an invitation to address an area audience in the New Bedford High School Auditorium at 1 p.m. that day, and to meet and talk with interested patrons after the presentation.

Dr. Payne's outstanding work first came to the public's attention some 10 years ago when he released information about his discovery of the 'singing' of humpback whales, a phenomenon he has continued to record and interpret over the last 15 years. His earlier findings were published in National Geographic Magazine, and since then he has presented some of it to a national TV audience.

His presentation here will disclose his most recent findings and is titled "Whales: Their Behavior and Culture". A new lecture, it is already scheduled for delivery at the American Museum of Natural History in January. Besides the fascinating humpbacks, the right whales and their behavior will be described by Dr. Payne for the first time. This critically endangered whale he found to be a charming, magnificent 50-ton clown with a haunting voice and an inventive spirit for both play and aggression. The past five years' work by Dr. Payne, his family and students, working under the aegis of the New York Zoological Society, has generated an explosion of new findings about the social and cultural lives of these gentle giants.

Dr. Payne will play back his underwater recordings of the exciting, other-world songs of these enthralling creatures and show colorful slides to illustrate and dramatize his verbal account of his findings, such as how they sail for sport, blow clouds of bubbles in fishing strategy, and in courtship have to exhibit skill in the use of 'streamlined underwater antlers' for fighting.

In the prime of his life, this personable, energetic research scientist is received with

TRU-TEST PAINTS

PAINTING HELP SPOKEN HERE.

BY Bonnie Blaire
TRU-TEST COLOR CONSULTANT

Dear Bonnie:
I am having to move from a large house into a small apartment. Is there anything I can do to keep from feeling closed in . . . to make my spaces seem larger?

Signed, Discouraged

Dear Discouraged:
There is much you can do with color. The most room enlarging color of all is light blue. It is even more enlarging than white because blue is a receding color. If blue seems too cool, warm it with some yellow, apricot or peach accent touches. Paint woodwork either to match walls or white.

Keep floors very light. Coverings for sofa or large chairs should be kept light or the same color as walls. Use as little furniture as possible and keep it scaled down to size of room. Avoid heavy dark woods. Use glass, brass and chrome for shelves and tables.

Keep the window walls free of heavy drapery. Use sheer fabrics that will let the eye travel thru and beyond the window wall to extend the space. Or, dress the windows with hanging plants and glass shelves with colored glass.

Flower prints on white give a light bright look. And finally, mirrors multiply light and a mirrored wall will double your space.

For room enlarging blues, see the palest colors on TRU-TEST Custom Color strip cards C12 thru C13.

His special visit to the old whaling port of New Bedford is sponsored by the Children's Museum of Dartmouth and was made possible by special arrangement with the L.S.B. It was established in 1968 by a group of eminent scientists and informed laymen who recognized a critical need to strengthen financial support for new multi-disciplined research into man's origins, his evolving nature and his environmental future. Dr. Leakey, in whose honor the Foundation was named, is known as "the Darwin of pre-history". the Plymouth County Republican Club. One of the main points of his presentation was the restoration of real power and authority to local governments by letting them raise their own revenues. Mr. Sears also touched upon the problems in the jails today.

The club decided to invite the candidates for state offices to speak at the annual Lincoln Day Dinner rather than have one main speaker. It was felt that this would give the candidates greater visibility before the upcoming convention in March. Plans for the dinner are being finalized by the chairmen, Paul Barber of Duxbury, Dave Chuckran of Kingston, and Gloria Striggles of Bridgewater.

The next monthly meeting will be held at the Red Coach in Middleboro on Thursday, December 17th.

Among recent gifts to Old Sturbridge Village were some "crumpled strips of paper with queer markings", which originated in the town of Dartmouth, probably in 1798-1826. To the expert eye of Jane Nylander, the Village's Curator of Textiles and Ceramics, the crumpled strips yielded up their mystery. They were designs or drafts for weaving household articles of wool and linen and are the first such drafts of early American women to come to light.

The women who made and used the drafts were Patience Lawton Kirby (1761-1841) and her daughter, Peace Kirby Howland, both of Dartmouth.

To explain the importance of the drafts, Mrs. Nylander will present an illustrated program, "Homespun America: True or False?" on Wednesday, December 9, at 8 p.m., in the Museum Theater. Following the talk you may preview the exhibition and enjoy the 29 weavings made from the "Peace and Patience" drafts.

Admission is charged non-members.
